

GRADES 9-12 | COUNSELOR-LED

Everything your school knows.
Everything the student shares.
Finally working together.

Addie builds one living Student Ledger from student voice and school context - then turns it into counselor-ready action.

THE PROBLEM ADDIE SOLVES

The student story already exists. It is just scattered.

Context lives everywhere

Forms, notes, records, comments, writing, and progress sit in separate places.

Counselors reconstruct it

High-value work starts only after searching, copying, and summarizing.

Understanding arrives late

The complete story is often assembled only when deadlines intensify.

WHAT ADDIE ACTUALLY DOES

Build the Student Ledger. Use it everywhere counseling matters.

Student conversations

Real experiences, meaning, patterns, and next steps by voice or text

School records

Courses, grades, transcripts, tests, and approved SIS context

Teacher + counselor knowledge

Comments, notes, meetings, decisions, and family context

Student work + progress

Writing, forms, research, tasks, deadlines, and follow-through

Student Ledger

The student record that actually listens.

Longitudinal | school-controlled | counselor-ready

Prepared meetings

What changed, what matters, and where a human question can go deeper

Recommendation support

Stories, quotations, teacher evidence, and possible structure

Fit + pathways

Learning, values, environments, constraints, and tested interests

Schoolwide visibility

Who is ready, stalled, engaged, or asking for human attention

ONE PRODUCT • DIFFERENT WORK AT EVERY GRADE

One counseling program. Four years of growing context.

Addie does not start college admissions in ninth grade. It builds the reflective foundation that makes later advising, fit, recommendations, applications, and support more accurate and more human.

Before meetings

See what changed, what the student wants understood, and where a human question could go deeper.

Before recommendations

Find stories, teacher evidence, quotations, themes, and possible structure while the counselor remains the author.

Across the caseload

See who is ready, stalled, engaged, or asking for human follow-up.

Ari Worthman
Lakeside School

"It made some meetings feel a lot less rushed."

Kelly Herrington
University Prep

"This actually makes us more human."

Joe Kinney
The Pingry School

"I'm using it to help me really structure the letter."

Getting started is configuration—not custom development.

A member of the Addie team configures the real account with your counselors in a focused 30-minute session. Your team leaves ready to run the program independently.
